

Susan Kamholz Majewski

Susan Kamholz's work combines several different mediums that she has learned at a variety of institutions including the Chicago Art Institute, The Center for Medieval and Renaissance Studies of St. Peters College, Oxford University and St. Olaf College. With that education, she has developed work in a multitude of areas and remains open to all mediums including foundations in figure drawing, scenic design, and photography. Her work is inspired by her travels and experiences of global landscapes.
